

AAF Conference, 20-21 September 2022

The 2nd international AAF Conference has been planned for 20-21 September 2022 to take place in Utrecht (Netherlands), in collaboration with the Liszt Utrecht Competition, which will start the next day (22-29 September 2022).

The conference is primarily meant for the organisers of international piano competitions, while professional pianists and other representatives from the Piano World are also welcome. Attending the conference is only possible after registration. Registration and participation in the conference is free of charge.*

The 1st AAF Conference in Barcelona (2018) was a wonderful event, attended by more than 150 people.

Click on the following link for an article about the AAF Conference:
<https://www.alink-argerich.org/WoPC-2022-1-AAF-Conference.pdf>

A detailed report of the 1st AAF Conference (38 pages) was made and is still available.

There will be again important topics on actual themes and interesting discussion panels at the upcoming conference, such as the position of the international competitions in the world today, the choice between live, online and hybrid events, preselections, jury composition and procedures as well as the involvement of piano companies.

If you are interested in attending the 2nd AAF Conference, please fill in the short reply form:
Reply Form for the 2nd AAF Conference

Instead of using the reply form, you can also send a personal message by e-mail.

*: AAF reserves the right to limit the total number of participants.